

Dear Families,

my name is Verena Kainz and I graduated school, to become a kindergarten teacher, in June.

I'm starting to work in the Sorgenlos-Kindergarten on July the 13th.

Due to that, I want to introduce myself.

I was born in Lower Austria but now I'm living in Vienna. In my leisure time I love to dance, to play the piano and the ukulele and to sew.

I chose the profession of a kindergarten teacher, because I enjoy to support children in their development and to be part of it.

"Grass doesn't grow faster when you pull it."

At the beginning of my school career I came across this African proverb. Since then it's a part of my professional attitude. In my opinion every child is unique and you can't compare it in their development. Every child has his or her own tempo, so it doesn't make sense to push them. It's better to give them enough time and possibilities to develop in their own pace.

I'm looking forward to meet you and your children and having a good cooperation.

Kind regards,
Verena Kainz
